HOLD CHILD WELFARE INSTITUTE OCTOBER 6

Will Deal With Many Phases Of Child Life; Program Is Interesting One

The Child Welfare Institute, which is to be held at the Vulcan Church on Sunday and Monday, October 6th and 7th, is one which will be of interest to all parents. In these days, when so much increased attention is being given to the proper training of the rising generation, a necessity emphasized through the demands of war for physically well equipped men and women, the subject has a direct call on every man and woman concerned in the welfare of the Canada of tomorrow. With the object of stimulating this interest to the fullest, and at the same time affording a fund of information, the Institute is being organized by the Rev. A. R. Schrag. An interesting program has been prepared. The Rev. E. S. Bishop, secretary of the Child Welfare Alberta Social Service League, will be here, and address will be given by Drs. Knowles and Brown, and Nurse Leverington. The program covering the two days is as follows:

Sunday, October 6th, at 7:30 at the church; address by the Rev. E. S. Bishop: "Our Christian duty and opportunity."

Monday, October 7th: 3:00 p. m.: address, Dr. A. O. Brown, "Proper Parental Care"; 3:30, address, Dr. Knowles: "The care and feeding of infants." 4:15 p. m., demonstration by Nurse Leverington: "Bathing and dressing the baby"; 4:30, a Round Table conference, led by Mr. Bishop, and entitled: "Some practical parent problems."

The program for the evening, commencing at 8:30: Chorus by the girls classes; address Mr. Bishop, National aspects of the Child Welfare movement; solo by Mrs. Embree, National Anthem.

CHAMPION RED CROSS

A very decidedly successful bazaar and chicken supper was held at Champion on Saturday in Mark's Hall. Tables were bountifully laden with food things and crowded with diners. The bazaar brought good prices. Everything was freely donated. After supper the society distributed Life Membership certificates to several soldiers' mothers. There are now 26 life members on the roll. The evening closed with a picture show under the guidance of Rev. Haddon. The day was a big red letter one for the Champion branch, and reflects great credit to the President, Mrs. Harper and her loyal executive.

The seven-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reece of Vulcan, died at Calgary last week end.

Rev. E. S. Bishop, secretary of child Welfare of Alberta Social Service League, will preach on Sunday on the subject of the "Child, Our Christian Opportunity and Duty."

The death of Mrs. A. Kerr of Okotoks took place at Calgary General Hospital on October 1st. The funeral takes place from the home at Okotoks at half past two o'clock tomorrow, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Davisburg cemetery. The deceased lady, who was well known to many people in this district, was the eldest daughter of Mrs. S. H. Irving, of Vulcan. She leaves a husband, two daughters and five sons. She was 44 years of age.

HIGH RIVER THINKS THIS A TOWN OF CHICKENS

The following is taken from the High River Times:

Vulcan seems to be quite a chicken town, of course we mean the feathered species, and at present the town is somewhat torn up as to whether these shall be allowed the freedom of the streets or not; we still are referring to the feathered species, and it was lately found necessary to call a special meeting of the Council to settle the matter. To some their presence on the highways, in the neighbors flower beds and gardens, was an expected outcome of their natural instincts which should be respected, while to others, their indiscriminate roaming and scratching about was as popular as twin beds in a bridal chamber. The seriousness of the question was beyond decision of the Council, who finally decided to submit the entire matter by petition to the rate-payers. Some lively crowing, scratching and cooing is expected in the town before the question is settled.

CLUNY MAN FINED FOR THEFT OF AUTO TIRE

Walter Plant, of Cluny, was fined $10 and costs, at Gleichen on September 21 for the theft of an automobile tire from Miss Goldman, of Calgary, who had been making a touring trip through the country.

The tire was stolen by Plant from Miss Goldman's auto at Queenstown, during the evening of July 12 last, when a dance for the benefit of Red Cross funds was being held there.

The description of the tire was left with Constable T. W. Symons at Gleichen, and it was not until September 20 that Constable Symons got any trace of it. Acting upon information gathered from a conversation he heard in Cluny, the constable got a search warrant and found the tire in Plant's home, concealed below the bed.

On being charged accused pleaded guilty, and was fined $10 by James E. Ostrander, J.P., at Gleichen.

GEORGE LYNCH, FARMER BLACKIE, DIES SUDDENLY

George Lynch, a farmer, who lived in Blackie, died there very suddenly about 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, September 24, of heart failure.

The deceased, who, with his wife, had been living in Blackie for some time previous, was around his village, and seemed to be in his usual state of health, and assisted in loading a kitchen cabinet on to a dray going to the house of a neighbor, Mrs. Warner, and helping to unload the article. About 15 minutes later deceased went to the livery stable and asked some help from the owner, Gerald Bradshaw to start an engine.

Both men started back, when Lynch without warning, fell upon his face, and died instantly. Dr. R. E. Buswell the coroner, from High River, pronounced death to be the result of acute dilatation of the right ventricle of the heart.

WILL NOT FORGET THE BOYS AT CHRISTMAS

People Of Queenstown And Mio Raise $1,500 For Christmas Boxes

The people of the Milo and Queenstown districts have a warm place in their hearts for the Canadian boys at the front, and they are showing their thoughtfulness by remembering them at Christmas.

Last Friday evening a box social and dance, for the purpose of raising money for Christmas presents for the boys, was held at the Milo Hall, at which many people from Milo and Queenstown were present.

The auction of the boxes was a great success, over $1,500.00 being raised. The lowest price paid for a box was $10.00, and the highest $27.00 which speaks volumes for the spirit of the bidders.

Following the auction the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and all who attended vote the evening a complete success.

It is now up to other districts to follow this illustrations example and get busy to bring Christmas as near as possible to the boys at the front.

LITTLE BOW RED CROSS

The annual meeting of the Little Bow Red Cross society will be held at Alston School house on Sunday, Oct. 6th, at 3:30 p. m., or just at the close of the regular religious service. Miss Pinsham of Calgary, Province, Treasurer will address the meeting. The report of the work and election of officers will take place. All interested persons are most heartily invited to attend.

WHEN TO MAIL CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

The postmaster-general states that Christmas parcels for the Canadian expeditionary forces in France should be mailed in time to be despatched from Canadian ports not later than the middle of November. Transportation is congested during the Christmas season, and those who are sending parcels to their friends in the trenches are urged to post them early if they wish to have them delivered by Christmas.

Mr. E. B. Sears was a business visitor to High River yesterday.

Buy your flour at Reeves. He has the best flour on the market.

Don't forget the Rebekah Anniversary dance at the Oddfellows Hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 9. Klebe's orchestra will supply the music and a good time is assured to all who attend.

The weather during the past week has been all that could be desired. The mornings are growing colder and there is much white frost. There was an attempt at rain yesterday, but it passed off.

A big dance was held at the Auditorium at Blackie last Friday evening and a good lively crowd enjoyed themselves during the evening. Klebe's orchestra furnished the music.

Reeves Ready-to-wear specialty man will be here on Monday, Oct. 7.

THE ANNUAL RED CROSS MEETING HELD MONDAY

The annual meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held on Monday evening at the Oddfellows hall, when there was a fair attendance of members present.

The third annual report of the secretary was submitted by Miss Fair. It showed that the Society had 31 life members, 58 active members. There are also between fifty and sixty ladies who do sewing for the Society, of whom about 25 only do work constantly. The auxiliary district of Red Cross has a membership of 18.

Through the efforts of Mrs. J. A. Lindsay money was collected to buy a knitting machine for the use of the Society.

In March the Society adopted one prisoner-of-war, Pte. C. Lougheed, of the Vulcan district. Every branch is asked to provide $7.50 monthly, half of the amount necessary to provide food and comforts for the Canadian prisoner in Germany. Part of this amount has been contributed by individuals each month, the remainder having been taken from the general funds.

The weekly meetings have been discontinued and all work is now done in the homes. Mesdames Grant, Hall and Howes were appointed superintendents of supplies for the first six months of the year. On account of illness Mrs. Hall was unable to act. For the last six months Mesdames Knowles and Denbigh have carried on the work. How well these ladies have succeeded is shown by the number of articles sent in, 8,351 pieces having been sent to Calgary depot in twelve shipments. 341 of these articles were contributed by the Red Cross district auxiliary. A shipment of vegetables was sent to the Ogden Convalescent home, Calgary, in October.

At the close of the reading of this report votes of thanks were passed to Mrs. J. A. Lindsay, the retiring president, the "Advocate" for space contributed, the members of the Oddfellows Lodge for the use of the hall, Mr. Vansilver for looking after the draying of the Society, and to all those who contributed either money or articles to sell.

The report submitted by Mr. A. M. Trail, treasurer, showed that the total amount of money collected was $3,491.75.

The election of officers for the current year then took place and resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. W. A. Howes, vice-president, Mrs. E. E. MacIntosh, Secretary, Miss Fair and Miss Travis, treasurer, Mr. A. M. Trail.

Superintendent of supplies for first six months; Mrs. Roy Walker and Mrs. G. Buck; for the second six months, Mrs. T. B. Lebow and Mrs. E. S. Hall. Executive committee: Mesdames, Denbigh, Grant, Farrand, and the president of the Red Cross district auxiliary; auditors, Messrs. R. L. Elves and G. M. Whicher.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

THIS FARMER SURF IS SOME COYOTTE HUNTER

Mr. J. C. Robbins, of Frankburg, takes the cake, when it comes to killing Coyotes. He was driving his Studebaker east of the town, and when near the McDonald place his attention was called by his wife to an animal on the road ahead and which she insisted was a coyote but which he declared was impossible as coyotes were not in the habit of patrolling the public high ways. He turned on the juice, however, and started in pursuit to soon learn that his wife was right. The animal saw his pursuers but showed no disposition to leave the road, took one backward glance at the auto and started to leg it down the road, keeping to the left wheel path. More juice was turned on and at the speed of fifty miles an hour the front wheel hit Mr. Coyote and the back wheel finished him. Mr. Robbins picked him up stone dead and carried him to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith and family are going to Blairmore this week, and will reside there. Mr. Smith, who has been down there for the past two weeks, returned to Vulcan last week-end for a few days.

UNION SCHOOL FAIR AND FIELD DAY IS ARRANGED

At a meeting of the school teachers of the vicinity held in the Oddfellows hall on Saturday last, it was decided to hold a school fair and field day for the children of the whole community on Saturday, October 26th at Vulcan.

There was a fine attendance, Brant and Champion having each two representatives and the rural schools joined in the movement, showing the interest in this effort to stimulate interest in school matters in the district.

Mr. R. W. Glover, representing the school trustees of Vulcan, opened the convention in a speech which pointed out the advantages to be gained by this spirit of friendly rivalry and the good that would accrue to the district in the broad question of education through it.

In the discussion that followed it was most gratifying to note the interest all present displayed, there being but few who did not voice their opinion. Mrs. Dean of Auburn, Miss Cloughessy of Champion, Miss Bolch of Brant, Miss McDonald of Ensign, and Mr. Davis of Vulcan, who presided, each contributed suggestions of value to the meeting.

The election of officers resulted in the following being chosen: President Mr. Davis, vice-presidents Miss Cloughessy and Miss Bolch, sec-treas., Mr. J. A. Lindsay; the presidents and vice-presidents to choose their committees from the districts near them, all join with the officers in the work of arrangements for the day.

To finance the undertaking it was resolved to ask the school trustees of the districts included in the plan for a grant from their school funds to that end.

Competitions in school work in the following subjects were decided on: Art, Composition, Geography, Household Science, Manual Training and Writing, the care of the school pony, the production of the school garden, collection of agricultural products, and collection of weeds were also made subject for competition.

On Tuesday night the officers met at Brant, Miss Cloughessy of Champion and Messrs. Lindsay and Davis of Vulcan going up on the evening train and returning on the midnight train.

The competition to be entered into and the plan for the distribution of prizes was fully discussed and a schedule drawn.

A new equitable basis for those competing in the sports was agreed on. In place of the usual qualification by age, the events are to be divided into classes by weight. Each individual competition is divided into four classes; less than 80 pounds, 80 to 100 lbs., 100 to 120 lbs. and over 120 lbs. The boys and girls compete separately in their classes.

In addition to the individual success the scholars are working for the honor of their school, for two trophies are to be provided, one for the sports events, the other for the scholastic events, the school winning the higher number of points to hold the trophy for one year. In scholastic and sports events care has been taken to equalize them so that the rural school with its smaller attendance will have an equal sporting chance with the larger grade schools.

The program of events will be in the hands of the teachers of each school in a few days so that preparation may be made by them for the great day.

The complete program will appear in a later issue of the Advocate.

In reply to various enquiries, we wish to state that the "Advocate" is not opening a fund for Christmas presents for the local boys at the front, as has been our custom for the past years of the war. The matter, if properly handled requires more time and attention than we are able to devote to it, and we would rather leave it alone than only half do it, however, much we may be interested in our friends at the front. The members of the L.U.B.A. Club are taking the work up this year, and all enquiries should be addressed to the secretary thereof, or the Rev. A. R. Schrag. The "Advocate" will be glad to do all in its power to help by giving whatever publicity is required.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPEECH

President Wilson's New York speech on the launching of the fourth Liberty loan is one of the notable phases in the war. No speech yet delivered by the president will have so much weight in the days to come, and whatever is said by the statesman of the Allied nations must of necessity be couched in terms not inconsistent with Mr. Wilson's utterance.

One notes primarily his rejection of all the efforts of the Teutonic powers to pose as the injured ones; no amount of make believe is allowed to pass. There is no such thing as "coming to terms" with a system which has made terms impossible; absolute and unqualified victory can be the only safeguard against the infringement of national integrity and right in the future.

But Mr. Wilson goes further than that. Having decided on a complete victory he specifies the outline on which peace after the war must be built if the victory won is to be of a lasting and beneficial nature. The outline he gives is as follows:

The principles were, he said, "first, the important justice meted out must involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be that justice which plays but the equal rights of the several peoples concerned."

"Second, no special or separate interest of any single nation or any group of nations can be made the basis of any part of the settlement which is not consistent with the common interest of us all."

"Third, there can be no leagues or alliances or special covenants and understandings within the general and common family of the league or nations."

"Fourth, and more specifically, there can be no special, selfish, economic combinations within the league and no employment of any form of economic boycott or exclusion except as the power of economic penalty by exclusion from the markets of the world may be vested in the league of nations itself as a means of discipline and control."

"Fifth, all international agreements and treaties of every kind must be made known in their entirety to the rest of the world."

Mr. Wilson makes no room for the idea of a trade war; he sees no plausible argument for "special covenants" or the idea of "selfish economic combinations." In their place he sees the nations as a "general and common family."

How Mr. Wilson's ideas clash with those related to others of an imperialistic tariff ridden nature we can all see, and there is bound to be something heard of the difference, as we have still to hear from the moneyed interests of the United States as we have heard from our own and those of the United Kingdom. But the world has faith in Mr. Wilson as being on the side of those who are waging the war rather than with those who hope to make capital out of it. Opposition he is sure to meet, but he is big enough to meet it and meet it successfully.

PROGRESS ON THE HOME FRONT

While the progress of the allied armies on the various fronts during the past few days has been such as to inspire us with the brightest hopes for the future it should also tend to remind us that we also have our share of work to accomplish if the final victory is to be complete. A reminder of this fact occurs in the annual meetings of Red Cross branches throughout the country which are held this week. Here we have the organization, which more than any other, extends a query to everyone, man and woman alike.

The appeal of the Red Cross is an appeal which should require no urging, indeed, that Society should find us all more than willing to give our help. But is such the case? Notwithstanding reports showing increased work and interest it is a safe conjuncture that few if any districts have attained anything like their full capacity. The unwilling are still with us, and while it is almost inconceivable to some minds that a certain number in our communities should shirk their share of war work, it must be confessed that to those the war has not yet appeared as a stern reality. They use time much as they use sugar and other necessities, without thought as to its value to others less favourably situated. As to how this reflects on the general situation one has only to suppose our men in the trenches following the same tactics. Then, indeed would we know the bitterness of war as coming directly to us. Let us then reverse the argument and we see more clearly how every inaction and carelessness at home not only in the matter of the Red Cross, but in every war effort retards and delays the final victory. In the final analysis the end of the war is directly influenced by the conduct of the people at home in Red Cross work, food conservation, thrift, and a dozen of other ways, and duty still calls us to forsake the path of indifference and get into line at home just as our boys have at the front. Their line is solid, unbreakable and we must back them up in the same manner with every resource at our command.

THE ALLOWANCE FOR DEPENDENTS

We are glad to note that some agitation for an increase in the allowance for the dependents of soldiers is taking place. It is the result of the efforts of next-of-kin association and the war veterans, but interest in the matter must not be confined to these bodies; if the dependents are to have their rights there must be a well informed public opinion behind them; as soon as the facts are known every right thinking man and woman will wholeheartedly back the worthy effort. Unfortunately an apathy toward the soldier and his life seems to be stealing over some of us, the enthusiasm displayed at his departure is apparently cooling and the promise made him that those he left behind should be well looked after have become a matter of little interest.

But whatever indifference we may have fallen into must be forgotten and the country at large must better itself to see that our men and their dependents are treated with justice and consideration. We were glad enough that the soldiers should go and fight for our rights, now it is time that we give our support and some show of fight for them.

"The present income of a soldier's wife and three children, which is considered an average family" says Mr. Morley, secretary of the Next-of-Kin Association, "consists of:

Half pay of husband, month, $15.00
Separation allowance, month 25.00
Patriotic Fund, month, 30.00

Total $70.00

"In case of death the widow's income is: Widow's pension $40.00, children, each $8.00. As against these figures it is estimated that on present price of living it would cost a family of five $114.35.

"Such figures show how grossly inadequate is the allowance made and public sentiment should be strongly behind the demand for an adequate allowance."

UNEQUALLED PATRIOTISM IS SHOWN BY FRENCH WOMEN

M. Quillet, President of the Agricultural Syndicate of Aure, wrote, as early as 1916, concerning the French farmerettes: "Happily in our misfortune we had the women. Rich and poor, old and young, all gave a hand with energy and courage. Women born in luxury, educated in convents, women occupied only with their pianos and hats, at the call of their country showed what was really in them. They became good farmers, rose at five in the morning, went into the dairies and the stables, toiled and struggled; for the farmer's life is a daily struggle with the incapable, the drunkard, and the unscrupulous. They faced besides the additional disabilities caused by war, conditions and heavy taxation of all articles necessary to the productive ness of the earth and feeding the animals."

Canada loves to tell of her girl heroes of pioneer days. For generations and even centuries some of the present war farmerette heroines of France will be remembered. Among these is a girl fourteen living at Morannes in the Loire. Her mother was dead, and she was "little mother" to three younger than herself. Her father was called to the colors and marched away, leaving a large farm to the care of this already too heavily burdened child. She managed the farm so well however, that the Prefet of the Maine et Loire thanked her publicly.

Two young sisters saw their three brothers march away to war and found themselves responsible for a sixty-acre farm, twenty-five cows and five horses. The "carried on" valiantly and cheerfully to the benefit of the community where they lived. At the other end of the line stand the poor old grandmothers, whose life of heavy toil seemed ended and who were enjoying a well-earned release from responsibilities. Upon these war has laid a heavy hand, and among the ruins of their beloved homes they have planted vegetables; over the shell torn and down-trodden fields they have attempted to guide the plough and sow the crops. That was in 1916, and still goes on, and yet the farmerette is mentioned in Canada as more or less of a novelty in 1918! What a contrast between the flower-decked meadows of Canada and the shell-torn fields of France! But surely the spirit that animates the women in both lands is the same.

A HERO AND A HUSSY

Just as one returning Peterboro soldier stepped from the train and war surrounded by the local committee of welcome, his faithless wife slipped unobserved into the rear coach, the same train that had brought her husband carrying her to parts unknown. She had previously sold their home with all its contents and took the soldier's child with her.

Canada's poetical talent is invited to make offerings, not exceeding 200, which will be judged largely on their effectiveness in influencing the public to buy bonds. A prize of $50 bond of the new issue will be awarded for the best poem submitted. The next best poem will be awarded special mention and $5 will be paid for those which the committee decides to use in the course of the campaign. Prof Wallace, of Toronto University, and editor of Victory Loan National Press News, will be the judges. The contest closes Oct. 15, and awards will be announced a few days later.

CANADIANS ON THEIR HONOR

In some quarters it has been suggested that Canadians be put on rations and not on their honor regarding food.

Do householders in Canada seek to evade the food regulations? Are the merchants of Canada conniving at the evasion of the food regulations? Let us see about that.

The main objective of the Canada Food Board is to supply Great Britain and the Allies with vital foods. With this in view food regulations are made, which, if respected by the people of Canada, will enable Canada to keep faith with the Allies on food.

Do the people of Canada want to keep faith with the Allies on food? They do. Are the people of Canada keeping faith with the Allies on food? They are.

To take any other position is to suggest that the people of Canada would rather keep their pre-war food habits than keep faith with the Allies on food. No true Canadian is breaking the regulations of the Canada Food Board for he knows those regulations are made in order that Great Britain and the Allies and the Canadian Army at the front may be properly fed. Who of us will eat what should be conserved for the Canadian army at the front?

The hearts of the people of Canada are sound and in this war to a finish Food is a first class munition of war and Canadians so view it. It will be time enough to go in for rations in Canada when the people of Canada refuse to conform to national efforts to conserve food for Great Britain and the Allies, and the Canadian Army at the front. When that time comes a policeman, not a food controller, will be needed.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

An Open Letter to
Vulcan and District
Residents

Realizing the particular requirements of the patrons of the Vulcan Opera House, I have made special arrangements for the exhibition of only the best productions procurable.

At great expense I have contracted for a series of high class photo-plays, featuring such stars as:

Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin
Marguerite Clarke, Clara Kimball Young
Constance Talmadge, "Big" Bill Hart
George M. Cohan, and others

Mondays and Tuesdays, commencing October 7th.

For Thursdays and Fridays I have arranged for the latest and best serial on the market, viz: "THE BRASS BULLET", an episode of which will be shown each week in conjunction with the already popular BLUEBIRD Films.

The first and opening episode of this high speed serial, [which is not a war picture], will be shown on Thursday and Friday, October 10th. and 11th. and to insure attendance by all who favor classy serials, I have completed negotiations for the showing of CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S most laughable comedy "WACK" on the same bill.

The regular Saturday program will be made up of a specially selected feature, together with the latest news reel and comedy, which will, I promise, be most acceptable.

The above outline of my future policy should appeal to all who are anxious to have the best of everything, and your appreciation of my efforts to put Vulcan 'Over the top' will, I trust, be demonstrated by your regular attendance at the Vulcan Opera House.

In addition to this high grade Photoplay program, I have made arrangements with the producers to have all shows which play Calgary, to come to Vulcan for one night if their itinerary will permit it, so the residents of the Vulcan district can rely on the local theatre for a complete entertainment, which will eliminate the necessity of going to Calgary to see good shows.

There will be a Halloween dance on Wednesday October 30th., and further Wednesday night dances will be announced later.

Trusting that I will be favored with your patronage, I am,

Yours very truly,

GERALD MEYER,

Manager, Vulcan Opera House.

TO every home there comes a time when every thought, every hope, every prayer for the future centres on the recovery of one loved one. In that hour of anguish, every means to recovery is sought—the highest medical skill, trained nurses, costly treatment. Does the price matter?

It may be so great as to stagger the imagination—a sum beyond the possible.

But does anyone ask, "Can we do it?" Money or no money, they do it. And somehow they pay.

It may mean doing without things they think they need. It may mean privations, sacrifices, hardships. They make unbelievable savings, they achieve the impossible, but they get the money to pay.

To-day in this critical period of our nationhood, there is imperative need for MONEY—vast sums of money.

Only one way now remains to obtain it. The nation must save, every community, every family, every individual Canadian must save.

If anyone says "I cannot save" let him consider to what extent he would pinch himself to relieve the sufferings of a loved one at home; and surely he would not pinch less for our fighting brothers in France.

Without suffering actual privations, nearly every family in Canada can reduce its standard of living, can practice reasonable thrift, can make cheerful sacrifice to enrich the life-blood of the nation.

You who read this, get out pencil and paper NOW. Set down the items of your living expense. Surely you will find some items there you can do without.

Determine to do without them. Start TO-DAY. Save your money so that you may be in a position to lend it to your country in its time of need.

Published under the Authority of The Minister of Finance of Canada.

FAMILY OF FIVE SAVES $50.00 A WEEK

All over the country high wages are being earned. Some of the workers are putting by against the inevitable "rainy day." Many are not. In Toronto, where the workers in the munition industry are believed to number nearly 30,000, some exceedingly high wages are being paid.

For example, in home munition factories, tool-makers are getting as much as $1 an hour, with pay at the rate of time and half for night work and double time on Sundays. Lathe hands get, as a rule, from 50c an hour up, with extra for overtime and Sundays.

Thus some men in munition factories, are receiving as high as $60 or $70, or even $80 a week with overtime. These are comparatively few. But plenty of them are earning $45, $50 and $55 a week.

Women, too, earn good money in these factories. Most of the inspectors in munition plants are women, and many will earn 35c an hour for an eight and a half hour day, with time and a half for overtime. Women, too, do plenty of other work in munition shops. Plenty of them earn between $20 and $30 a week, though comparatively few get the latter figure.

It is quite common for two, and three, and even four members of one household to be working on munitions and to be earning a total pay-roll of an amount that would have been deemed fabulous in the days before the war. Here is a typical example. It is of a family living in the east end of the city.

Two years ago the weekly income earned by this household was $26. To-day it is over $80. The father and his two daughters are working at munitions, earning respectively $30, $25, and $18 a week, while the boy, aged seventeen, earns $8 a week at another job downtown. The mother looks after the house and repairs the family clothing, making many of the new garments, as she is handy with the needle.

They are exceedingly thrifty people and for the last two years they have saved an average of $50 a week. Their living does not cost them appreciably more than it did in the days when the total family income was $26. They have fought the increased cost of food and economy to a great extent, by the use of substitutes for meat. They have not laid out on any personal pleasures or extravagant things for their home.

In the two years that they have been making big money they have paid off a mortgage of $2,000 on their house, have invested another $1,000, and will be ready to take a big slice of the new issue of war bonds when it comes along.

To have raised themselves to comparative affluence in so short a time is a great achievement. It is one in which the mother takes great pride.

"For the first time in our lives," she said, "we are protected against the future. That is such a relief. You don't know how things will be after the war—some folks think they will be very bad—and it is a great mercy to feel that you have a bit of money back of you. Another thing that spurred us on to save it the high prices on all sides. You can't get anything like proper value for your money in anything. But these times won't last. Later on, when we can get a dollar's worth for a dollar once more we shall be able to buy more for our money than we would today."

HOSPITAL DISTRICTS MAY BE TOO SMALL

The order in council transferring the whole health department for the province of Alberta to the charge of the new minister of municipalities, Hon. A. G. MacKay, was passed last Tuesday afternoon. This department was organized and has been up to the present in charge of Hon. George P. Smith, but with the change in the cabinet whereby Mr. Smith takes over the department of education, the sub-department of health has been placed with the department of municipalities. It has been considered that the two departments can work to advantage under the same detailed information that is required for the health.

Speaking of his policy in regard to the municipal hospitals, Mr. MacKay gives the warning that the hospital areas may be made too small for safe financing. "Nothing," says Mr. MacKay, "more unfortunate could happen than the establishment of small districts with heavy assessments and lack of funds with which to run the hospital so as to give first class service." The minister states that he will not establish a district unless he is absolutely satisfied that it is in a sufficiently strong financial position to give this service when it is built. He is also very decided on the matter of boundaries being so arranged so as not to leave any small territories stranded in between districts.

HE TALKED WITH THE CROWN PRINCE

To have fought the crack German airman, Richtofen, to be downed in a terrific air battle, in which six British planes encountered eleven German machines, and to have tasted the bitterness of prison life in Germany are some of the experiences of Capt. Gordon D. Hunter, who is at present A.D.C. to General Lee of the British Aviation Mission at Washington. Captain Hunter is in Toronto on a visit to his father-in-law, Mr. J. Montgomery Lowndes, 144 Front street west.

Capt. Hunter describes the visit of the German Crown Prince to the internment camp at Aachen, near Aix-la-Chapelle.

"The Crown Prince chatted affably enough with a number of British officers who had been captured," said Capt. Hunter. "The first man whose hand he shook was a South African, of whom he asked, 'Why are you in the war?' The officer replied, 'Oh, everyone was coming over to fight for Great Britain and her allies, and as it was my duty, I thought I might as well come too.' The crown prince then said, 'It would have been very much better for you had you stayed at home minding your own business, and had you done so you would not have lost a leg.'"

"I noticed that all the time he was speaking to me and to the other officers he held us firmly by the hand. This did not indicate any particular friendship or regard for us. It was a precautionary measure in case any of us might be tempted to let drive at him. His left hand he kept in his pocket, and we could plainly see the form of a revolver with which he kept covered the person he was addressing."

"The Crown Prince came to the camp for the purpose of inspecting the prisoners and seeing the conditions that existed there. He seemed rather glad when told that I had been brought down by Richtofen, who has since been killed; in fact, he rather gloried that the crack German airman had been the cause of sending me to earth, severely wounded in several places."

"He asked me what I was going to do when I left Germany, and I told him I was going back to England and then to Canada. He said he hoped to go to Canada some time, and said he hoped the people there would not throw stones at him. I said, 'The Canadians are good sports, sir,' and he said, 'Well, you have good winter sports and shooting in Canada.' I agreed that we had, and we kept on chatting on different topics for a few minutes."

"What is the Crown Prince really like? Does he really resemble the caricatures published of him?" asked The Telegram.

"No," said Capt. Hunter. "On the contrary, he is a very soldierly looking fellow, and not at all what I expected to see him. Without any partiality whatever I would describe him as a real soldier, at least so far as appearance goes."

"When we were taking dinner, his aide brought us a box of fifty cigarettes with the Crown Prince's crest on them, and these were divided equally amongst the officers. We raffled the box in which they were contained and Flight-Commander Mack won it. I kept the cigarettes I got as souvenirs of the occasion."

Capt. Hunter, whose home is at St. Mary's prior to going overseas was employed with the Toronto General Trusts.

THRIFT HALLMARKS A NATION

Saving the almighty dollar in order to gratify one's desires in the matter of personal purchases has been a working force in society for all times. To save for the sake of hoarding the golden ducats is a form of insanity that has afflicted the miser of all time. To save in order to make another stronger is the highest form of thrift known. And in exercising this virtue of laying aside extra dollars from our present surpluses, for the better living of society when times may not be so generous, we carry in us the mark of the true Canadian patriot.

He who loves his country is no waster. He knows his savings form the capital that makes business go. The dollar soon doubles itself and total savings of a thrifty people mark out the nation as a really great one. Love of our Canadian home land demands of every resident from the Yukon to Cape Breton, that he save his surplus dollars against a possible rainy day. The thrifty man is one of Canada's big patriots.

WORTH REMEMBERING TOO

Let us not forget another thing about our merchant sailors. They went on strike only once since the war began and that was to prevent evaders of military service escaping from England to the United States.

Remember The Boys At The Front.

It is now time to mail the Christmas Parcels to the boys over there, and we offer a few suggestions.
